What is the Springfield Historical Commission?

The Commission is the City agency responsible for the preservation and promotion of Springfield's historic assets. Its seven members are appointed by the Mayor for staggered three-year terms. The Commission must include residents of the historic districts, as well as members nominated by the Board of Realtors, American Institute of Architects, the Springfield Preservation Trust, and the Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities. The Springfield Historical Commission meets on the first and third Thursday of each month.

What is the RIDGEWOOD Historic District?

Ridgewood (see Map) is Springfield's fifth historic district. The area dates back to the early nineteenth century when Union and Mulberry Streets were first opened. Several Greek Revival style houses from this period still remain. The majority of the structures, however, were built primarily between 1890 and 1910 by the noted Springfield developer, William McKnight. The area attracted prosperous local families and the prevalent styles were Tudor revival, colonial revival, shingle, and stucco arts and crafts. The neighborhood is still remarkably intact and well maintained. Although individual structures may not be significant, the relationship between the various buildings creates a whole which is greater than the sum of its parts. To aid in preserving this important neighborhood, the Historical Commission, City Council, and the Mayor declared it a historic district in 1977.

What Does Historic District Status Mean?

The Springfield Historical Commission must approve any exterior work PRIOR to beginning any work. This review mechanism attempts to insure that changes are compatible with the character of the district. New construction and demolition are also controlled. Landscaping with plants, shrubs, and trees is not controlled.

The following can be approved through a certificate of nonapplicability, which does not require a public hearing:

1. Ordinary maintenance, repair or replacement of any exterior feature that does not involve a change in design, material, or outward appearance thereof.
2. Work which cannot be seen from any public street or park.

3. Temporary signs or structures subject to conditions such as duration and location.
4. Storm windows, screens, window air conditioners, antennae [satellite dishes are regulated; please see Satellite Dish Guidelines], and similar appurtenances.
5. Terraces, walks, driveways, and sidewalks.
6. Color of material used on roofs.
7. Signs of not more than one square foot.
8. Reconstruction, substantially similar in exterior design, of a building, structure, or exterior architectural feature damaged by fire, storm or other disaster.
9. Fencing not lying between the foundation line and the public way.
10. Gutters and Downspouts.

What Residential Controls and Guidelines are Being Adopted?

The following features ARE controlled and their guidelines have been adopted so that the individual character of each house will be respected, and that the integrity and visual cohesiveness of the neighborhood is retained:

Features	Guidelines
Fencing	To protect street vistas, the yard between the street and foundation line should be kept open. Only under unusual circumstances on a case-by-case basis will fencing be allowed.
Steps	Replacement shall be in the shape and design of the original; change in material, e.g. wood to concrete, is permissible.
Roof	Change of roof shape or material shall require approval.
Building Additions	Design to be approved on case-by-case basis.
Grillwork (on roofs and porches)	Shall be retained unless it can be demonstrated to the Commission that retention would result in a safety hazard or economic hardship.

Siding (also see "Trim") possible. A change in type or material of require approval on a case-by-change should not affect features.	Original wood, clapboard, or shingle siding will be maintained whenever siding shall case basis. Any trim or other decorative

What Procedures are to be Followed in Requesting Approval for a Change?

1. Call Springfield Planning Department (787-6020) and ask for the staff person for the Historical Commission to determine if the proposed change is controlled by the Commission.
2. If it is controlled, request an "Application for a Certificate" to proceed with the change.
3. The Historical Commission, after receipt of the application form, will schedule a public hearing to discuss the request. Notices will be sent by mail to abutters fourteen (14) days prior to the hearing.

The Commission must decide on all requests within sixty (60) days of receipt of the application; otherwise, the request is automatically granted.

What Kinds of Certificates Are Available?

1. APPROPRIATENESS - issued for those changes that are in conformance with guidelines and/or are acceptable for the district.
2. HARDSHIP - issued for those changes that are not appropriate, but which may be necessary due to economic, physical, social, or other special conditions.
3. NON-APPLICABILITY - issued for those changes which affect features not controlled by the Commission.

What About Further Recourse?

If a petitioner disagrees with a ruling by the Commission, he or she may, within twenty (20) days after the filing of the notice of such ruling with the City Clerk, appeal to the Superior Court (Housing Court may also have jurisdiction). On the other hand, the Historical Commission may, through Superior Court (or Housing Court), seek an injunction against any violation to the historic district. The Court may order the removal of any such violation, or the restoration of any building or feature altered or demolished in violation of the historic district. Persons found guilty of violating the district may be fined not less than Ten Dollars ($10.00) nor more than Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00).

Where Can More Information Be Obtained?
