Note: The U.S. Census uses census tracts to further divide some of Springfield's neighborhoods. Designed to be relatively homogeneous units with respect to population characteristics, economic status, and living conditions, census tracts generally average about 4,000 inhabitants.

Upper Hill

Upper Hill is located towards the center of the city, about two miles from Downtown. This neighborhood contains 329 acres. It numbers among the smaller of Springfield's seventeen neighborhoods. Its principal boundaries are State Street to the north, the Former Highland Division Rail Line to the west, Watershops Pond to the south, and portions of Roosevelt Avenue, Wilbraham Road, and Watershops Pond to the east.

Historic Assets

Upper Hill contains part of the Winchester Square Historic District, which is listed on the National Register of Historic Places. Both the Indian Motorcycle Factory and the Knox Car Factory on Waltham Avenue are part of this district.

Schools

Homer Street School is the one public school in Upper Hill. Upper Hill is also home to two other leading education facilities in the city: Springfield College, and part of American International College.
